Profile of a Typical Investor

A typical investor in the Fund may be an investor with a medium-risk tolerance and with an investment horizon of 5 years or longer who considers investment in the Fund as a convenient way of seeking to generate capital returns through an exposure to a diversified portfolio of exchange traded funds, global equities and fixed income.

THE FUND

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Fund is to achieve long-term capital growth, through investment in Collective Investment Schemes, transferable securities in the form of equities and bonds which are listed or traded on a Recognised Market, cash or highly liquid securities consisting of certificates of deposits, and government and public securities with a maturity of less than one year. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective.

Investment Policy

The Fund will pursue its objective through a policy of investing directly in a diversified portfolio of open-ended Collective Investment Schemes, which will be primarily open-ended eligible exchange traded funds ("ETFs"), which will be strategically held for the medium to long term and produce income. An investment by the Fund in an open-ended Collective Investment Scheme may be disposed of in the short-term where there is volatility in the market and the Investment Manager deems the investment to be unsuitable for the Fund in such circumstances. The investments in open-ended Collective Investment Schemes will seek to achieve global exposure predominantly to equities and bonds but also to eligible property and/or commodities. The Fund shall not invest directly in commodities or property. The Fund may gain exposure to commodities and commodity-related instruments by investing in open-ended eligible UCITS ETFs which invest in commodities and commodities related instruments. The Fund may gain exposure to property through investments in open-ended eligible UCITS ETFs which invest in property related securities.

The Fund may invest in other Collective Investment Schemes or investment trusts which are authorised under the Regulations and which are domiciled and regulated in either the United Kingdom, Ireland or Luxembourg, and it may also invest in Guernsey Class A Schemes (together the "Underlying Funds" or each an "Underlying Fund"). The Fund may invest up to 100% of its assets in units or shares of other Collective Investment Schemes. The Fund's investment in a particular Underlying Fund will not exceed 15% of the Fund's total net assets. The Fund will not invest in AIF Collective Investment Schemes. Subject to the Investment Restrictions as set forth in Schedule 2 of the Prospectus, the Fund will not invest in an Underlying Fund that itself invests more than 10% of its assets in other open-ended Collective Investment Schemes. The maximum aggregate management fees that may be charged by the Underlying Funds in which the Fund will invest is 2% of their aggregate Net Asset Value. The Underlying Funds will predominantly invest in equities and bonds, but may also invest in eligible property and/ or commodities. The Underlying Funds will not invest in financial derivative instruments and will not employ leverage. The Underlying Funds will be selected for investment by the Investment Manager. The Underlying Funds selected by the Investment Manager will be primarily open-ended eligible ETFs in order to provide the desired economic exposure of the Fund. In certain circumstances, a high cost of ownership of the Underlying Funds may impact the decision to gain exposure to a particular index. Where more than one Underlying Fund would provide the desired exposure, the Investment Manager will produce a shortlist (using data from Morningstar) and by making comparisons on the basis of criteria including proximity to the economic exposure required, tracking difference, tracking error and total cost of ownership. Such investment shall be subsequently monitored by the Investment Manager on the basis of these same criteria.

Whilst the primary focus of the Investment Manager when selecting an open ended eligible ETF will be on ensuring that the constituents of an ETF matches the desired exposure, fees, size of vehicle and historical tracking error, the Investment Manager and Investment Advisor will also assess the product supplier, making an assessment of their history in providing ETFs, their history of achieving consistently low tracking error across their products and the assets under management of such firms.

Should the Investment Manager select an actively managed Collective Investment Scheme, further enquiries would be made by the Investment Manager, as to the individual manager's or team's track record in managing the strategy, appropriateness and quality of the selected suppliers to the Fund. A firm's operational and regulatory structure, the ongoing charges figure or total expense ratio and financial substance of the business would also be assessed by the Investment Manager.

In addition to investing in Underlying Funds, the Fund may invest up to a maximum of 30% of the Net Asset Value of the Fund in equity securities of companies listed or traded on a Recognised Market and in fixed and floating rate G7 government bonds. A G7 government bond is a government bond issued by a nation in the Group of Seven ("G7"). A G7 bond is considered relatively less risky than bonds issued by nations outside the G7. G7 bonds are often characterized by their high liquidity and low risk. The G7 nations are Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the United Kingdom and the United States. All these nations are considered industrialized and developed countries. In respect of its direct exposure to listed equity, the Fund will limit investment to companies with market capitalisations exceeding GBP 500million.

Direct investment by the Fund in individual equities and bonds will be selected using a bottom-up approach. For strategic equity purchases the key criteria include a company's earnings quality, sustainable dividend growth, compelling valuation and consistent free cash flow. Strength of company management is also considered. For tactical equity purchases, which will be made with a much shorter time horizon to take advantage of perceived short-term anomalies or mispricing with assessment of chart patterns and trading volume influencing decisions, technical patterns will be considered including assessments of momentum to capitalise on the continuance of existing trends in the market, moving average convergence/divergence trading (which is an indicator used in technical analysis of stock prices), relative strength as compared to equities securities in the market, and volume. Generally, the aim of the Fund's strategic equity purchases is to buy and hold whereas the aim of tactical equity purchases is to buy and realise a profit in under six months.

Where the Investment Manager deems it appropriate to do so, the Fund may invest up to a maximum of 20% of the Net Asset Value in cash or cash equivalent instruments such as debt securities (including taxable securities, i.e. securities with interest or dividends subject to taxation) of governments and fixed income government bonds with a minimum rating of Aa+ (Moody's, Fitch, S&P) for temporary defensive purposes and as part of the above 30% allocation.

The Investment Manager uses its discretion as to when to invest in cash or cash equivalent instruments, based on conditions in equity markets and will do so with the aim of reducing the effects of the volatility of equity markets on the Fund's portfolio and preserving the capital of the Fund.

The Fund may invest substantially in deposits with credit institutions. An investment in the Fund is not in the nature of a deposit in a bank account and is not protected by any government, government agency or other guarantee scheme which may be available to the holder of a bank deposit account. The value of Shares may go down or up and investors may not get back the amount invested. The assets of the Fund will be invested in accordance with the restrictions and limits set out in the Prospectus and such additional investment restrictions, if any, as may be adopted by the Directors in relation to the Fund.

The Base Currency of the Fund is Sterling, however, the investments of the Fund may be denominated in various currencies other than Sterling. The Fund's exposure to currency fluctuations between Sterling and the currencies in which the investments may be denominated is unhedged. The performance of the Fund may, as a consequence, be strongly influenced by movements in currency exchange rates because the currency positions held by the Fund may not correspond with the securities positions held.

The Investment Manager does not currently consider the principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors (within the meaning of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 November 2019 on sustainability-related disclosures in the financial services sector). This is because, whilst ESG risks are incorporated into the Investment Manager's investment decision making processes, the Fund's objective (and in turn the Investment Manager's objective) is to achieve capital growth over the long term for Shareholders. Further, the relevant information required to appropriately assess the principal adverse impacts of the Investment Manager's investment decisions on sustainability factors is not yet available. The Investment Manager will be mindful of future developments in regulatory clarity and data quality in this regard.

The investments underlying this Fund do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of Regulation (EU) 2020/852 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 18 June 2020 on the establishment of a framework to facilitate sustainable investment, and amending Regulation (EU) 2019/2088.

Leverage

The Fund will not employ leverage.

Investment and Borrowing Restrictions

The Fund is subject to the overall investment and borrowing restrictions set out in the Regulations, the Prospectus and the Central Bank of Ireland requirements. In addition, the Manager shall not make any change to the Investment Objective, or any material change to the Investment Policy, unless Shareholders have, in advance, and on the basis of a simple majority of votes cast at a general meeting or with the prior written approval of all Shareholders of the Fund (or otherwise in accordance with the Instrument of Incorporation), approve the relevant change/changes. Shareholders will be given a reasonable notification period to enable them to redeem their Shares prior to the implementation of any such change.

Dividend Policy

The Directors do not anticipate paying a dividend in respect of any Share Class within the Fund. All income and profits earned by the Fund attributable to the Shares will accrue to the benefit of the relevant Share Class and will be reflected in the Net Asset Value attributable to the relevant Share Class.

Risk Factors

Investors' attention is drawn to the risk factors set out in the Prospectus and to the following additional risk factors.

Equity Investments Risk

Investing in equity shares means you are taking a stake in the performance of that company, participating in the profits it generates by way of dividends and any increase in its value by way of a rise in its share price. If the company fails, however, all your investment may be lost with it. The share price does not reflect a company's actual value, rather it is the stock market's view of a company's future earnings and growth potential, coupled with the level of demand for it, that drives the share price higher or lower as the case may be. Demand is a function of the market's assessment of which countries, industry sectors and individual companies offer the best prospects for growth. That assessment is influenced by a whole array of economic and political considerations.

Commodity Risk

A Fund's investments in commodity indices may subject the Fund to greater volatility than investments in traditional securities. The value of commodity indices may be affected by changes in overall market movements, commodity index volatility, changes in interest rates, or factors affecting a particular industry or commodity, such as drought, floods, weather, livestock disease, embargoes, tariffs and international economic, political and regulatory developments.

Currency Risk and Unhedged Nature of the Fund (other than the Class C Hedged Shares (USD) and the Class D Hedged Shares (USD))

The rate of exchange between various currencies is a direct consequence of supply and demand factors as well as relative interest rates in each country, which are in turn materially influenced by inflation and the general outlook for economic growth. The investment return, expressed in the investor's domestic currency terms, may be positively or negatively impacted by the relative movement in the exchange rate of the investor's domestic currency unit, the currency of the relevant Class and the currency units in which the Fund's investments are made. Investors are reminded that the Fund may have multiple currency exposures and such exposures will be unhedged. Investors will bear the risks associated with fluctuations in the currency exchange rates.

Specifically, the Base Currency of the Fund is Sterling and the investments of the Fund may be denominated in various currencies other than GBP. Such investments are unhedged against the Base Currency (GBP) which means that the values of such investments will fluctuate with GBP exchange rates. Thus, an increase in the value of GBP compared to the other currencies in which the investments are priced reduces the effect of a positive performance, and magnifies any weaker performance, in the underlying investments. Conversely, a decrease in the value of GBP has the opposite effect of magnifying a positive performance, but reducing the effect of any weaker performance, of the underlying investments. Furthermore, the Class C Shares (USD), Class D Shares (USD), Class E Shares (USD), Class C Shares (EUR), Class D Shares (EUR), Class E Shares (EUR), Class F (USD), Class F (EUR), Class G (USD), Class G (EUR), Class H (USD), Class H (EUR), Class L (USD), Class L (EUR), Class M (USD) and Class M (EUR) which are priced and valued in USD and EUR respectively, are unhedged against the Base Currency (GBP) which means that the values of such Class will fluctuate with GBP exchange rates. The Fund offers Share Classes denominated in a currency other than the base currency of the Fund. Any subscription or redemption proceeds in relation to an investor in such Share Class will be converted at the prevailing spot rate and consequently, will also be exposed to currency exchange fluctuations.

All costs and gains/losses of any hedging transactions (including any fees or costs of any hedging provider at any normal commercial rates) will accrue solely to the shareholders holding Class C Hedged Shares (USD) and Class D Hedged Shares (USD) and shall not form part of the assets of the Fund or constitute a liability of the Fund, save where they cannot be satisfied out of the assets attributable to the Class C Hedged Shares (USD) or the Class D Hedged Shares (USD) (as the case may be).

Underlying Fund Selection

The identification of Underlying Funds and the ability of such Underlying Funds to find attractive investment opportunities are difficult and involve a high degree of uncertainty. The Fund will be subject to those risks common to Underlying Funds investing in publicly traded securities, including market volatility and the Net Asset Value of the Fund is likely to have a high volatility due to the Fund investing in Underlying Funds. Also, although intended to protect capital and enhance returns in varying market conditions, certain trading and hedging techniques which may be employed by Underlying Funds such as leverage, short selling and investments in options or commodity or financial futures could increase the adverse impact to which Underlying Funds may be subject. Prospective Shareholders should carefully consider the risk factors which relate to an investment in a Fund and should seek the advice of their legal, tax and financial advisers if they have any doubts regarding the contents of this Supplement.

There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager can successfully select suitable Underlying Funds or that the managers of the Underlying Funds selected will be successful in their investment strategies.

Estimates

There may be delays in obtaining net asset values for Underlying Funds which may result in reliance on estimates in calculating the Fund's Net Asset Value. Where estimates are used and are bound to be inaccurate, those valuations shall not be revised retrospectively.

Subject to acceptance by the Fund of applications for Shares, Shares will be issued for the first time on the first Business Day after the expiration of the Initial Offer Period. Following the Initial Offer Period, Shares will be offered on each Subscription Date at an issue price per Share equal to the Net Asset Value per Share at the Valuation Point, together with any duties and charges and any Subscription Fee. Where the amount subscribed for Shares is not equivalent to an exact number of Shares, fractions of Shares may be issued and will be rounded to the fourth decimal place.

Monies subscribed for each Share Class should be in the denominated currency of the relevant Share Class. Foreign currency subscribed will be converted to the denominated currency of the relevant Share Class at the prevailing market rate.

Investors, in the case of an initial subscription into the Fund, must subscribe for at least the Minimum Initial Subscription amount. In the case of any further subscriptions, Shareholders must subscribe for at least the Minimum Subsequent Subscription amount.

The procedure for subscribing for Shares is set out in the Prospectus.

Redemptions

Redemption requests for amounts less than the Minimum Redemption may be refused.

The procedure for redeeming Shares is set out in the Prospectus.

Transfers

The procedure for transferring Shares is set out in the Prospectus.

Conversions

The procedure for converting Shares is set out in the Prospectus.

Anti-dilution Levy

An anti-dilution levy may be imposed during any period of net subscriptions or net redemptions, as more fully disclosed in the Prospectus.

Prices of Shares

The Fund deals on a forward pricing basis. A forward price is the price calculated at the next Valuation Date of the Fund property after the purchase, redemption, conversion or switch of Shares is agreed (such date being the Subscription Dealing Deadline or the Redemption Dealing Deadline as appropriate). Shares in the Company are "single priced". This means that subject to the dilution adjustment referred to in the Prospectus, the price of a Share for both subscription and redemption purposes will be the same and determined by reference to a particular Valuation Point.

Subject to the more detailed requirements of Schedule 1 (Valuations of Sub-Funds), in summary the price of a Share will be calculated at the Valuation Point as stipulated (rounding the resulting total to the nearest four decimal places) by:

- taking the value of the property attributable to the respective Fund (i.e., all Shares (of the relevant Classes) in issue (on the basis of the units of entitlement in the property of the Fund attributable to that Class at the most recent valuation of the Fund)); and
- dividing the result by the number of shares of the relevant Classes in issue immediately before the valuation concerned.

Publication of Share Price

Except where the determination of the Net Asset Value has been suspended, in the circumstances described in the Prospectus, the Net Asset Value per Share as calculated as at each Valuation Point will be published daily on the Manager's website (www.equitytrustees.com) and www.fundlistings.com and will be kept up-to-date.

FEES, COSTS AND EXPENSES

Further information on all fees and expenses payable out of the assets of the Fund are as set out in the section headed “FEES, COSTS AND EXPENSES” in the Prospectus.

Management, Investment Management and Distribution Fee

Under the provisions of the Management Agreement, for its role as the ICAV’s appointed Manager, Investment Manager and Distributor, the Fund will pay the Manager a management fee and an investment management and distribution fee. These fees combined will not exceed 2.0% per annum of the Net Asset Value of the Fund, plus £60,000 (the “Manager Fee Cap”).

All fees payable to the Manager will accrue daily and will be payable monthly in arrears (and pro rata for lesser periods).

The Manager will also be entitled to reimbursement of all reasonable properly-vouched out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Manager (including VAT thereon) for the benefit of the Fund.

The “Management Fee” in respect of all Share Classes will be 0.085% per annum of the Net Asset Value of the Fund, subject to an annual minimum of £60,000.00. The details of the investment management and distribution fee in respect of each Share Class of the Fund are as set out in the table below:

Share Class	Investment Management and Distribution Fee (%)
Class A Shares (GBP)	0.60
Class B0 Shares (GBP)	1.50
Class B2 Shares (GBP)	1.50
Class C Hedged Shares (USD)	1.90

Class L Shares (USD)	1.00
Class M Shares (EUR)	1.90
Class M Shares (GBP)	1.90
Class M Shares (USD)	1.90

The Manager shall pay, out of its investment management and distribution fee, the fees payable to any sub-investment managers, investment advisors, sub-distributor, introducer, marketing agent or other service providers that it may appoint on behalf of the ICAV from time to time and may pay all or any part of its investment management and distribution fee to such other parties. No such appointments by the Manager shall be made unless the ICAV have approved the delegation in advance.

It should be noted that management fees and other fees may be charged to capital and that, as a result, capital may be eroded and income may be achieved by foregoing the potential for future capital growth. The rationale for charging to capital is to maximise the amount distributable to investors.

Investment Advisor Fee

The Investment Advisor's fee will be payable by the Manager from its investment management and distribution fee, and not out of the assets of the ICAV.

Hedging Fee

The Manager shall receive a hedging fee from the shareholders holding Class C Hedged Shares (USD) and Class D Hedged Shares (USD) only (the "Hedging Fee"). The Manager shall use the Hedging Fee to discharge the costs incurred in facilitating, and monitoring, hedged transactions.

The Hedging Fee is not attributable to the Management Fee or Investment Advisor Fee and therefore should not be included in any calculation of the Manager Fee Cap. Notwithstanding the calculation metrics outlined below, the Hedging Fee shall be subject to an annual minimum fee of $10,000 for each of the Class C Hedged Shares (USD) and the Class D Hedged Shares (USD).

The Hedging Fee, which shall apply equally to the Class C Hedged Shares (USD) and the Class D Hedged Shares (USD), shall be calculated by reference to the Fund's assets under management ("AUM") and a basis point ("bps") proportion of that AUM, on the following basis:

AUM	Hedging Fee
$0-$50,000,000	8.0 bps
$50,000,000 - $100,000,000	6.5 bps
$100,000,000 and above	5.5 bps

Administration Fee

Under the provisions of the Administration Agreement, the Fund will pay the Administrator a fee of up to 0.05% per annum of the Net Asset Value in respect of each Class of Shares as of the relevant Valuation Date (plus VAT, if any), plus €1,500 for each operational share class in excess of two, subject to an annual minimum fee of €25,000. The Administrator shall also be entitled to transfer agency fees, which will be charged at normal commercial rates, based on the number of transactions processed and registers maintained by the Administrator.

The administration fee will accrue daily and will be payable monthly in arrears (and pro rata for lesser periods).

The Administrator shall also be paid a fee of €3,000 for the preparation of financial statements.

The Administrator shall also be entitled to reimbursement out of the assets of the Fund of all reasonable properly-vouched out-of-pocket expenses incurred for the benefit of the Fund.

Depositary Fee

Under the provisions of the Depositary Agreement, the Fund will pay the Depositary a fee of up to 0.03% per annum of the Net Asset Value in respect of each Class of Shares as of the relevant Valuation Date (plus VAT, if any), subject to a minimum annual fee of €20,000. The Depositary shall also be entitled to transaction fees, which will be charged at normal commercial rates, based on the number of transactions processed by the Depositary.

The Depositary fee will accrue daily and will be payable monthly in arrears (and pro rata for lesser periods).

The Depositary shall also be entitled to reimbursement out of the assets of the Fund of all reasonable properly-vouched out-of-pocket expenses incurred for the benefit of the Fund.

The Fund shall also bear the cost of all relevant sub-custodian transaction fees and charges incurred by the Depositary, or any sub-depositary, which will be charged at normal commercial rates.

Subscription Fee

The subscription fee for each of the Class C Shares (EUR), the Class C Shares (GBP), the Class C Shares (USD), the Class C Hedged Shares (USD), the Class C (CHF) Shares, the Class F Shares (EUR), the Class F Shares (GBP), the Class F Shares (USD), the Class M Shares (EUR), the Class M Shares (GBP), and the Class M Shares (USD), will be 5% of the subscription amount.

An investor who realises their Shares after a short period may not (even in the absence of a fall in the value of the property of the Company) realise the original amount invested. Therefore, the Shares should be viewed as a long term investment.

The Manager may pay to any introducer or advisor all or a portion of any subscription fee charged to the investors for services provided in connection with the solicitation of the subscription.

Redemption Fee

No redemption fee will be charged to Shareholders when Shares of the Fund are redeemed.
